taken by the Court of Appeals yester-day in an opinion which confers broad powers upon the authorities in connection with the fixing of a maximum speed limit for any thoroughfare or to meet any particular condition.

The authorities appealed from an order of Judge John P. McMahon in police court dismissing an information filed against Claude Balley in which the latter was charged with driving an automobile across Klingle bridge faster than 15 miles an hour. Judge McMahon held in this case that Congress had fixed the minimum speed at 22 miles an hour and that the authorities could not lower it.

Alexander H. Bell, ir., assistant corporation counsel, insisted that the persent traffic act conferred upon the authorities they hower to fix maximum or minimum speed limits to meet conditions as they presented themselves and to prevent unreasonable speed at any time and st any place. This contention was upheld in its entirety. The authorities may now go shead and set a minimum speed limit for any street or bridge to meet present traffic conditions.

1,000 LIVES BELIEVED

This quake was strong enough to put the lighting system out of com mission temporarily, to burst water mains and to interrupt communications. Minor quakes have occurred at intervals since.

The earthquake of 1923, which ranked as one of the most destructive or record, caused enormous losses. The official death roll was placed at 99,331, with 103,733 injured and 43,476 missing. The fire which followed the quake was responsible for many of the casualties and for a great preponderance of the property destruction. The losses were estimated at not far from

The principal center of this quake was under Sagami bay to the south of Tokyo, where it was found later that the sea bed had been lifted in some places and depressed in others.

Antired Talk Heard By Cathedral Heights

The decision of the State Department refusing to recognize the government of soviet Russia was upheld by the Rev. Edmond P. Walsh, S. J., dean of the foreign service school, Georgetown university, in an address before the Cathedral Heights Citizens' association in St. Albans hall last night.

Father Walsh pointed out that the government of this country already has recognized two Russian government since the czar was overthrown, but to recognize the present government would be impracticable. Since England recognized the soviet government there has been a constant exchange of notes of protest between Moscow and London, Father Walsh said. He outlined the political situation in Russia today and told of his experiences while in area, in an address before the Washington High school cadet corps, at an ington High school cadet corps, at annual presentation of commissions in the Central auditorium.

Gen. MacArthur told the schoolboy cadets to combat the "heresies" circulated by propagandists demanding total disarmament.

"No one who has seen war cares to look on its ugly face again," he said, "but with the red menace in Russia and turmoil and disorder in other parts of the world, there is little doubt that some day our streets once more will be filled with marching men."

The speaker declared America may as well dismiss its physicians and community fire departments as to fall to maintain reasonable preparedness. He paid high tribute to the corps and the records of those who have passed through its course of training.

"Although military in bearing," he said, "you are not militaristic in beliefs or ambittons."

She is jail For weeks she had been quarreling with the girl, she said, because of Rosa's friendship with Mike. Last night the quarrel was renewed, with Joseph and Thomas as witnesses. Rosa complained of a headache and went down stars into the basement. The mother later followed her. She found the girl sitting on a pile of rags on the lowest step of the basement stairs with her newborn son beside her. Mrs. Stoble, enraged, drew a .32 caliber revolver sieh had been keeping for just such an exigency, she told police, and fired two more shots. One struck Rosa in the spinal column. She died on the way to a hospital.

Rosa was a favorite with her father and brothers and sisters, and they are unsympathetic with the wife and mother's harsh handling of the situation. Yet they engaged today John S. Applegate, attorney, to defend her. The lawyer indicated temporary insanity would be claimed.

But the slayer of her own daughter was unremorseful in her cell.

"Rosa acted like a sneak keeping of many five the many with this Mike," she said. "Maybe if the gun was not there so grandly would not shoot, but I hid it in the basement when I learned about "See, see. Look who's here!" she said to me when I went into the base into the death of Mike.

Among the things saved by the students were collections valued at $200,000, which it was said was a conservative estimate, since they represented the life works of several former instructors and would be impossible to replace.

Among these collections were 1,700 watercolor paintings of North American plants by Helen Frances Ayers, Brendel's class models of cryptogams, a herbarium of 60,000 sheets, including the lichen collection of the late Prof. Clara E. Gummings, and many museum specimens.

Both candidates have been on the ground for the last week or ten days. They particularly were active during the time that the prohibition reorganization bill was before the Senate, but it was thought at the time they merely were taking part in the drive of the drys to see that the measure passed.

Carried to White House.

Carried to White House.

Since, however, the feud has been carried to the White House by Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, who is an ardent supporter of Haynes, who also comes from Ohio. It is reported Senator Willis not only asked the President to consider Haynes for the place, but informed him that Dr. Clarence True Wilson, head of the Methodist board of temperance and morals, was not in a position to speak for the Methodist, since Senator Willis himself was a member of that denomination.

The fight in dry circles primarily is due to the fact that under the new law, which divorces prohibition enforcement from the bureau of internal revenue, the place which Haynes holds at present will be done away with. Instead of the present classification, the new law provides for an undersecretary in charge of prohibition, the place mow held by Gen. Andrews, and under that two commissioners, one of prohibition and one of customs, and then two deputies in each section. hen two deputies in each section The new commissionerships pay $8,000 instead of the $7,500, which

His theoretical task has been to serve as a sort of connecting link between the government and those or ganizations in the country interested in dry enforcement. In this capacity he has addressed Antisaloon league and W. C. T. U. meetings, but his contacts with Gen. Andrews almost have been negligible.

Backing Held Silght.

Due to the existing relationship between Gen. Yellowly, however, always has been connected with the active enforcement of prohibition. He for a time was stationed in Washington and has been sent out into several districts where the enforcement task was believed to be particularly arduous. He has been in the Chicago district some time, but prior to that was in charge of virtually all enforcement work, and in that connection approved of the "under cover" rum running in which Judge Frank Cooper, of the Northern district of New York, was involved.

Another position in the prohibition service which will be nonexistent as soon as the new law is placed into operation is that of James E. Jones, who now is director of prohibition. The new legislation carries no such office and it is understood Mr. Jones is eager to be named either commissioner of prohibition or become one of the two deputies the law creates.

The jury will decide whether or not Sinclair's reasons for not answering Sinclair's reasons for not answering questions provide a valid defense. The guidance of Justice Hitz in matters pertaining to application of the statute to the circumstances of the case will be an all-important factor. This is the first time in more than 30 years that a test case is being made in the criminal courts of the powers of congressional committees in the matter of compelling witnesses to answer whatever questions members of the committee wish to propound. It is conceded that unrestricted power to compel testimony is not sanctioned by law but the question of how far committees of Congress can go without exceeding the bounds has never been definitely determined and for this reason the present case will admittedly assume far-reaching importance.

As time : passes and the public has opportunity to observe the trend of events in Mexico it becomes clear that the rule of lawlessness south of the Rio Grande is encouraged by its temporary successes.

The meddling of senators and publicity seekers has only tended to increase the audacity of the Calles regime and to handicap the United States government in its all too lenient policy toward the wrongdoers in Mexico.

It is notorious to those who know Mexicans that for years nothing has been sacred in the minds of the usurpers of power in Mexico. The correspondence of private citizens has been opened, copied, carefully sealed and sent on by the organization of spies in the Mexican postoffices, with the result that eminent Mexleans, in no way concerned in politics, find it necessary to send letters by friends leaving Mexico and have these letters posted in the

The violation of the private conscience of the masses in Mexico; the repudiation of its foreign debts; the confiscation and spoliation of the property of foreigners generally, and the conduct of actual hostilities against the United States through Nicaragua, represent a part of the settled policy of the outlaws now ruling in Mexico and typify a regime which menaces the peace of the United States.

Whatever may be the surface indications of Mexico's attitude toward this country, the fact remains that there can be no understandor honest peace between the two countries long as the present Mexican regime lasts.

The offensive propaganda of Mexican diplonatic officials in the United States would not be tolerated for a moment if the offenders were Russians. They would be expelled from this ountry without undue formalities, and that the only way the Mexican offenders can be wought to their senses. Without the recogniion of the United States government and the American embargo on arms, the Calles regime ould not remain six months. To continue his rule of lawlessness is no service to the dexican people, and is a dangerous precedent fecting American interests in all Latinmerican countries.

There is no common ground for an honorae understanding between the American and Mexican governments because there is no onor, good faith or fair dealing in the ethics of the Calles regime.

VALUE OF THE DOLLAR.

The national industrial conference board has ist completed a national survey of the purhasing power of the dollar. On the basis of lving costs the dollar is now worth about 60 ents as compared with the 1914 dollar. Since 1921 it has fluctuated less than 5 cents either vay from this figure, so it may be considered having become stabilized at this level, as entrasted with the severe fluctuations of the rst few years after the war.

Average weekly wage earnings at the beming of this year were found to be 116 cent higher than they were in 1914 perefore, the wage earner is 28 per cen tter off than he was before the war, conidering the purchasing power of his weekly

It appears that the prevailing conception at prices are high is in error, and that the blic should be viewing its finances through s-colored glasses. If the butcher bill is cult to meet something is wrong with the ly budget. Any individual who is living the same scale as before the war saving at least 25 per cent of his pay check. Possibly, of course, the wage has become magnified, and idual has thought that he could do re with it than was warranted, but remains that every one should have ey in his pocket than ever before. eased use of luxuries accounts for shortage that makes so many householders plain of the "high cost of living."

UNEXPLORED RUSSIA.

A dispatch from Leningrad bears the ination that a Russian scientific expedition recently discovered a new and mighty n of mountains in the Yakutsk region of oria. The range, boated along the Indi-ka river, is described as being more than 00 miles in length and 300 miles wide, h many of the peaks 11,000 feet high. untains will probably be named after the late premier.

is difficult for the average American to grasp the immensity of the Soviet n, or to reafize that this mighty chain of mountain ranges has only now been discovered. The United States, by which Americans measure other countries, has an area of some 3,700,000 square miles. however, embraces more than $,000,000 square miles of territory. The population of the United States is approximately 115,000, 000. The population of Russia is estimated at approximately 133,000,000. In other words, Russia is more than twice as large as the United States, whereas its population is not appreciably greater. The United States. in 1920, had approximately 500,000,000 acres of improved farm land. Russia, in 1923, had 6,000,000 acres of farm lands controlled by the state, or 3.6 per cent of the total area formerly owned by private capital. Russia has 500,000,000 acres of forest, however, potentially agricultural when the timber is removed, and it is estimated that under development such as other civilized countries have enjoyed, she would have more than 700,000,000 acres of cultivable land.

When one recollects that in the United States there are thousands of acres almost uninhabited, one realizes that in Russia, with twice the area and a not much greater population, there must be vast territories which still remain unexplored. It was in such territory that the new mountain range was discovered, and it is in such territory that other important finds will be made. No one knows what natural resources are concealed there.

THE NEGRO'S RIGHT TO VOTE.

The United States Supreme Court has found that the constitutional guarantee giving negroes the right to vote applies to primaries as well as to elections. A law of Texas denying to negroes the right to vote in Democratic primaries is set aside by the Supreme Court as being in violation of the Constitution, which not only gives citizenship and the right to vote to negroes, but denies to any State the right to withhold from them the equal

In some quarters this decision is construed to mean that the Supreme Court has extended to primaries the scope of Federal jurisdiction over elections. But the decision does not go so far. The question in the Texas case was whether the State had denied to a negro the right to "vote." It was shown that the Democratic primary was conducted for the selection of candidates by voting. The negro citizen concerned, L. A. Nixon, of El Paso, showed that he was a Democrat and had voted the Democratic ticket for years before the passage of the law which denied to negroes the right to vote in Democratic primaries. The State of Texas, defending the law, alleged that the Democratic party in that State was a private organization which financed itself and which had a right to lay down its own qualifications for membership. It was also contended that it was well known that the Democratic party in Texas was a white man's party, and that white men have just as much right to organize their own private political parties as citizens have to vote at general elections.

The sufficient answer of the Supreme Court is that all persons, whether colored or white, stand equal before the laws of the States, and that no discrimination can be made against them by law because of their color.

The mistake made by Texas was in enacting a law denying to colored citizens the right to vote. Undoubtedly the white men of Texas can organize as many private parties as they please, and may exclude negroes; or the negroes may organize and exclude the whites; but the State of Texas can not give these private actions the force of law.

The question of extending the jurisdiction of Congress over primary "elections" is not covered by this decision. Primaries are party selections of candidates, and not elections. But even in primaries the right to vote can not be abridged by the State because of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

This decision may have a pronounced effect upon Southern senators when they come to consider the Smith and Vare cases. Now that the United States Supreme Court has set aside a law which attempted to exclude negroes from voting in primaries, it is hardly probable that Southern legislators will still further promote Federal control of elections by supporting the idea that the Senate can assert jurisdiction over primary campaigns.

The supremacy of the white man in some parts of the South can be maintained only by The nation has tacitly consented to the arrangement. If the Senate should extend its jurisdiction over primary campaigns, however, the question of the enforcement of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments will force itself to the

AIR TRANSPORT.

Rene Fonck, famous French aviator, upon his recent return to France from a visit to America, made the prediction that within the next three years the United States will lead the world in utilization of air transport. There is only one reason why Europe leads America in aviation at the present time, according to this authority, and that is because of the necessity of building and operating large fleets of planes in the war. The European public became used to the airplane, and upon the cessation of hostilities turned to it for transportation as a matter of course. The United States has had to contend against public ignorance and indifference in the matter of aviation.

It is undoubtedly true that America is forging ahead rapidly in its development of the airplane as a commercial agency. Each month witnesses an increase in commercial operation. More planes are being flown over greater distances, carrying more passengers and larger cargoes all the time. Hardly a day passes that does not bring with it an announcement of importance to this infant in-

Last week, for instance, the problem of lighting a landing field adequately without at the same time blinding the pilot was solved by the development of a huge incandescent lamp. One bulb will illuminate a 2,000-foot runway, blanketing it with a layer of light 10 feet deep, with no stray beams or glare. light removes the principal hazard of night flying, and will make possible 24-hour flying

Near Los Angeles a giant all-metal dirigible of new design is nearing completion. Reposing in luxurious compartments, steam heated and quipped with radio, passengers in this ship will be transported from New York to Los Angeles in 36 hours, or between New York claims of the designer. Only experience, of course, can prove the practicability of this ship, although it seems certain that transcontinental and transoceanic air transport lines will be among the next important developments ..

Now that the United States has begun to exploit the air. Rene Fonck's prediction will undoubtedly come true. The three years he mentions is a brief period of time, but if the progress of the last six months is continued. it might not take even that long to place the United States in the front rank of nations utilizing air transport.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

Newspaper advertising brings better returns than are secured to the advertiser through any other means of reaching the purchaser. That conclusion has been reached by one of the greatest manufacturing companies in the

The Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Corporation has tried, and its managers know the value of newspaper advertising as compared with printer's ink spread on the pages of magazines. As an outcome of this discovery the big electric manufacturing company announces that its advertising appropriation will be extended in the future almost entirely to newspaper space. The announcement comes from J. C. McQuiston, manager of publicity of the Westinghouse company. "Newspapers seem to offer the only medium by which we can both 'nationalize' and 'localize' our various sales campaigns," says Mr. McQuiston, "thus permitting us to carry on a nation-wide campaign on products and at the same time vary our program to fit the needs of specific districts."

The newspaper campaign will start April 1. The decision to take this step came after a careful study of all the factors entering into marketing, selling and advertising situations. and is not the result of a sudden whim or a desire on the part of the advertising depart ment of the corporation to try out a new experiment in publicity. The Westinghouse corporation has reached the conclusion that the easy flexibility of newspaper advertising, whereby weather conditions and variations in economic conditions may be advantageously followed, is not supplied by other mediums.

It is not a new discovery that has been unearthed by this among the foremost producers and marketers of electric supplies. Other heavy advertisers blazed the way to publicity through the daily press a long time ago, but the new departure of this company, whose advertising appropriation runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, is further proof that "big business" is rapidly reaching the conclusion that the surest way to reach the consumer is through the medium of the daily paper.

ART TREASURE TROVE.

For the last 30 years the University of Syracuse, N. Y., has been entertaining an angel unawares. In 1875 Dr. Heinrich Wolfe, of Berlin, who is understood to have been the physician of Kaiser William I, left a unique collection of carvings, photographs and works of art, especially portraits of scientists, and the collection came into the possession of Mrs. Harriet Ball Leavenworth, of Syracuse. That lady in 1898 gave the entire collection to the college of fine arts of the university of her home city. Because of lack of appreciation, want of space, or lack of knowledge of the importance of the gift, the college authorities took no steps toward displaying the treasures which had been so easily acquired. Instead they were piled in their original packing boxes in the dim attic of the college. But on Friday last Dean Bray, of the graduate school, announced the discovery of the stored treasure. It is said to contain wood carvings which were the product of the second century, portraits of scientists dating back more than 1,000 years, embracing some 12,000 pieces, besides hundreds of fare books and engravings relating to art and the sciences.

Among the portraits there are said to be many examples of the work of the artists of the Renaissance. What is more important than all, at least in the estimation of the nonartistic public, is the announcement that "unofficial appraisals place the value of the objects which have lain forgotten for nearly 30 years, at more than $30,000.

SPEED LIMITS.

The District Court of Appeals has established definitely the right of the traffic director to reduce the speed limit for automobiles below the 22 miles mentioned in the traffic act Some time ago the police arrested a driver proceeding at a speed greater than the 15 miles an hour prescribed by the traffic director over certain bridges. In police court the driver claimed that the law made permissible a 22-mile speed limit throughout the city, and filed a motion to quash the information. The judge concurred in this view. Thereupon the corporation coun sel sued out a writ of error to the Court of Appeals, and the latter reversed the finding of the judge of the lower court.

The fact that Congress intended to grant to the traffic director all authority necessary to control vehicular traffic should never have been questioned. It should be apparent also that there are times and conditions which make the 22-mile limit dangerous, and that it is to the best interests of every one that a lesser speed limit be established and enforced. In the case of bridges, particularly, the number of recen accidents and tragedies occurring thereor should be all the reason necessary for the reduced speed regulation. This right has now been established by the appellate court.

Every inch of the way leading toward ideal traffic control has been won against legal obstacles. In most cases the traffic director has come out victorious. Obstructionist tactics may serve to delay justice somewhat, but eventually lawbreakers find that legal loopholes are poor protection against the necessity of paying the penalty for their acts.

"Washington pays to the United States government in the form of income tax an amount greater than the ten following States: Vermont, Montana, Utah, Arizona, Wyoming, North Dakota, Idaho, New Mexico, and Nevada. The amount paid in income taxes for the year ended June 1926, by residents and concerns in the District totaled $15,190,636.34, which represents a gain of 22 per cent," the survey stated.

"While making no pretense to being a manufacturing city, Washington has in the neighberhood of 500 manufacturing industries producing finished products annually amounting to more than $67,500,000, among which are automobile bodies and parts, beds and bedding, brick, building steel, chemicals, children's dresses, druggists' preparations, electrical machinery, flour, furniture, gas ranges and glass.
"During the past year the total amount of building was 4.4 per cent less than 1925. However, apartment house construction in 1926 was 23 per cent more than 1925, while single family dwellings were 20 per cent less in 1926 than 1935. The population provided for in 1926 was 35,000."

sibilities, and these they developed with extravagant energy.

Miss Kerby incidentally is credited with the stage direction, and some of the scenes evinced an originality for which the author should be grateful, notably the table-rapping episode, which was the peak of the farce. Miss Carol Humphreys had moments of much winsome charm as the young bride, and Reginald Sheffield acceptably filled the role of the harassed young would-be husband, suicide and reimbodied spirit.

ASHES

"Long is the way and hard, that out of hell leads up to light." How ably Milton's chosen words express your feelings quite, as struggling upward from the dusky depths you lug the ashes up the cellar steps. And then emerging in the lovely dawn, you spill them freely on your cherished lawn, and dust the wash that's hanging on the line and burst the buttons off your pants behind, and muss your clothes and soil your face ere you have put them in their place. Of course all coal has ashes but in ours the crop's so small that to get them to the ashman isn't any job at all.

Plea of Dying Fighter Resulted in Gang's Visit to Hospital.

Far from the bright lights of Broadway and the new Roxy theater it likely that Roxy's most interested audience last night was at Waiter Reed hospital. For here it was not so many years ago that a soldier returned from France with a broken back, one night on a crystal set heard Roxy's gang. Not long after Gladys Rice, a member of the gang, was singing in a Washington on a crystal set heard Roxy's gang. Not long after Gladys Rice, a member of the Red Cross, communicated the wish to Roxy, a former marine, who could not some present at the United States to be equipped with radio.

Last night every one of the 1,200 beds was provided with a receiving set. 200 extra headphones were provided for nurses and doctors, and 13 loud speakers were provided for the convelescent patients in the various reception halls and recreation rooms.

Furthermore, as Roxy's personal guestes a delegation of ten of the Waiter Reed hospital and recreation rooms.

Furthermore, as Roxy's personal guestes a delegation of ten of the Waiter Reed hospital in every manner." That long the waiter of the Red Cross and 13 loud speakers were p and recreation rooms.

Furthermore, as Roxy's personal guests a delegation of ten of the Walter Reed patients will go to New York Friday to be present at the formal opening of the theater. They will be in charge of Miss Lowerfield and Sergt. T. F. Prendergast, U. S. A., and were chosen from among those who had been there the longest and who "had been a credit to the hospital in every manner." That one of these patients might be more comfortable on the trip Mrs. Marshall Field yesterday sent a brand-new wheel chair.

And the last thing Roxy did last night before going on the air was to call up Walter Reed from New York on long distance telephone to ask if they were all set for the concert. An hour later the buddles sent through a telegram to him: "Your program is a knockout. We are listening-in 1,400 strong."

And really, in spite of many conjectures to the contrary, Roxy, after being off the air more than a year, came back with a bang. Principally because it was pretty much the old stuff, but done on a bigger and more pretentious scale. A realization of the latter was brought home in the very beginning by the singing of what was originally written for the piano, Rubenstein's "Kamenoi Ostrow," with 100 mixed voices accompanied by the full orchestra of more than 100 pieces.
Roxy's "hello everybody" was as natural as if he never had been off the air, but he was heard to make the remark perspiringly, "God love you, but I'm nervous." Which probably was true. Gamby's voice has improved—a little and her laugh hasn't changed a bit. Frank Moulan—as he has done a hundred times before—stopped the show with "Over the Wiaduct, Down by the Winegar Woiks," and Florance Mulholland came into her old glory by again singing "I Passed by Your Window."

Picture fans had their inning with the introduction of Gloria Swanson, whose new film will open the theater. Gentleman readers may get an idea of what she wore by Roxy's description which was "Gloria is a vision in—golly I wish I could describe her." Whereupon Gloria asked if she might say a word over the air to her husband at home. "No," said Roxy. Then said Gloria naively, "Henry, you'll have to wait until I get baok."

The concluding number, "Down on the Swanee River," was sung by Julius And really, in spite of many con

The concluding number, "Down on the Swanee River," was sung by Julius Bledsoe, one of the gang's new finds, and, of course, Roxy ended this as he does every other performance with the familiar, "Good night. Pleasant dreams, and God bless you all."

Virginia Pays Nothing To Children's Hospital

mitted to the institution, the District government pays only one-third of that amount for each patient sent there by the board of public welfare, and the State of Virginia nothing whatsoever, according to a report made to the board of lady visitors of the hospital.

Not a single sick child was turned away from the hospital last year, the report stated, and during that period 30,008 children of every race and creed received treatment. During the past month 374 children were cared for, with an average of 145 a day, the highest in the history of the institution. In the dispensary 1,371 were treated and 707 in the child welfare department.

Kentucky Humorist Slated as Main Attraction of National Hook-Up.

TONDORF ALSO TO TALK

The main attraction in the national hook-up tonight to be heard here through WRC at 9 o'clock will be Irvin S. Cobb, the Kentucky humorist. However, for Washingtonians there will be another exceptionally interesting speaker in the Rev. Francis A. Tondorf, S. J., world-famous seismologist of Georgetown university, who is expected to confide a few things most of us do not know about earthquakes through station WMAL at 8:45 o'clock. It was Father Tondorf, who, six hours before any of the restrof the world knew about it, announced here that there had been a tremendous shake-up "somewhere in the vicinity of Japan." This, of course, was the great Japanesse earthquake. In fact, Father Tondorf has been engaged in this work for years and not even a third-class earthquake half way around the world seems to escape his attention. the world seems to escape his attention. Therefore, what he will have to say to night will probably be well worth turn night will probably be well worth tuning in on.

The evening program of WRC will begin with a Lenten concert of sacred musse by the Gunton temple choir at 7 o'clock. Half an hour later the "Busy Bee" again will be heard buzzing around the world. Then will come in succession the Jolly Bakers, Mr. Cobb, the auction bridge game, and the "Radio Cavalcade."

Leading off one of the most varied programs WMAL has had this season will be Dr. V. R. Boswell, of the University of Maryland, who will tell how to plan the early home garden. Scheduled for 8 o'clock will be former Sergt. Charlés A. McDonald, the blind barytone. Several hundred young women already have been credited with being members of the original Floradors.

Of State's Delegates women already have been credited with being members of the original Floradora sextette; but Director Plerson, of WMAL, may go down in history as coming to the rescue of the mere men of that organization. He vouchsafes the information that no less a person than former Sergt. McDonald was one of these Floradora men.

The Kiwanis activities for crippled children later will be related, and the station's program will conclude with the WMAL Movie club, which begins at 10:30 o'clock. Raleigh, N. C., March 7 (By A. P.). Delegates from North Carolina to future national party conventions will not be pledged to any one candidate under a bill passed today by the State senate. The bill, which repeals the presidential preference primary law, already has passed the house. In the future delegates will be chosen

Not heard on WRC, but easily picked Not heard on WRC, but easily picked up on any one of a dozen outside stations will be the Vikings through WEAF at 8 o'clock. Through KDKA at 8:30 o'clock may be heard the Sparkers, and through the same station a half an hour later arias from ten operas, ranging from the heavy Wagnerian operas, "Tannhauser" and "Walkure," to the lighter 'works of Meyerbeer in "L'Africaine," given by the National Broadcasting Co.'s grand opera singers. Veterans Celebrate Special to The Washington Post.

Easton, Md., March 7.—Two of Easton's oldest citizens, veterans of the civil war, one of whom wore the blue, while therother wore the gray, celebrated their birthday anniversary, here today. They are Charles S. Seymour. who is 87 years old, and Col. Oswald Tilghman, 86 years old. "Open house" was kept at Foxley Hall, the home of Col. Tilghman, and also at the home of Mr. Seymour. The two congratulated each.

Radio Merchants' Luncheon. Tighman, and also at the home of Mr. Seymour. The two congratulated each other over the telephone and later exchanged visits.

Many persons called at both homes to pay their respects to the celebrants. Buffet luncheons were served.

Hadio Merchants association will hold a luncheon at 12:30 today in Harvey's restaurant, sponsored by the Doubleday-Hill Electric Co. Officials from the Crosley factory, Cincinnati, will demonstrate and explain the new socket power units.

VAN TASSEL IS NAMED

The grand jury yesterday indicted Edwin M. Popkins, former treasurer of the Merchants Bank & Trust Co., on 2d Division to Plan a charge of violating section 834 of the District code in connection with the alleged appropriation to his own use of the total of $4,800 belonging to the bank, on April 27, 1925. One count of the indictment men-

Diank, on April 27, 1925.

One count of the indictment mentions a check for $3,900 and another count mentions the sum of $1,600. Popkins was arrested Pebruary 2 on a warrant sworn out by Jean T. Dinger, of the Department of Justice. Harold D. Van Tassell, former teller of the International Exchange Bank, was indicted on charges of grand larcent, alleged to have appropriated to his own use the sum of $1,214.49 belonging to the bank on August 20, 1926.

Philip Jackson, colored, now under indictment for an alleged criminal assault on Mrs. Daisy Welling and also for alleged assault with a dangerous weapon and robbery, was indicted again yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of robbery. This time Jackson is alleged to have taken a purse from Mrs. Dola D. McKnight, 102 B street northeast, in the Capitol grounds.

Malcomb Howard, colored, was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder. He is alleged to have shot Jessie Nelson, also colored, at 2351 Sherman avenue northwest on February 4. The shooting followed an argument.

A new indictment charging first-degree murder was returned against Dorothy Jackson, colored, in which Moses McCormick also is named a defendant. This indictment charges that the defendants shot Harriet Monroe, also colored, at 30 Fifty-fourth street northeast on October 17, 1926, and that she died November 16 from her wound. The ames of other persons indicted and the daily legal record of The Post.

Working Without Pays

Raleigh N. C., March 7 (By A. P.)
Legislators, generally anticipating cleaning the slate early Wednesday morning, went to work without pay today. The 60 days with pay, which include Sundays, allowed by the constitution for blennial meeting had expired Saturday, Ratification of many bills are in order. The legislature can not adjourn until all bills passed are ratified. About 2,000 bills had been introduced in both houses since convening January 5. About 950 of them have either been ratified or are ready for ratification.

families, for an annulment of their marriage.

Counsel for Rhinelander said the wife's attorneys had already been paid $18,500 and that Mrs. Rhinelander was receiving $300 a month alimony.

Rhinelander sued for an annulment in 1924, alleging his wife concealed from him the fact that she had negro blood in her veins. The annulment was denied by a jury. The appellate division of the supreme court upheld the lower court and the case went to the court of appeals.

Trial of Suit Delayed

New York, March 7 (By A. P.).
Eamon de Valera failed to appear in the supreme court today when a suit brought by the Irish Free State against the Guranty Safe Deposit Co., to obtain possession of $2,500,000, the proceeds of the sale of bonds here to help finance the Irish revolution, was called. De Valera came to this country to testify at the trial.

When the case was called an array of counsel appeared ready to go on, but Justice Erlanger put it over until tomorrow because some of the interested parties were not ready.

"Lola" and your reply thereto today containing the letter signed "Lola" and your reply thereto caught my attention.

I do not very often take part in such discussions as this, but your answer to "Lola" is so narrow, so painfully confined to the conventions, and so lacking in understanding, charity and kindness, that it makes me wonder if you are as unfit to edit your column as your reply to Lola would make you appear.

Apparently it only seems vulgar and seak to you that Lola's friend should make to you out the unfortunate but very human mistake of loving, not wisely but too weak. You seem to think that because she has reached 25 a woman should be able to control impulses and desires as off as time and a thousand times stronger than herself. Evidently such emotions, instead of seeming natural and something which can not always be controlled, are to you only indicative of a weak, animal character and streal lady" should not have them unless they can be kept within the bonds of conventions.

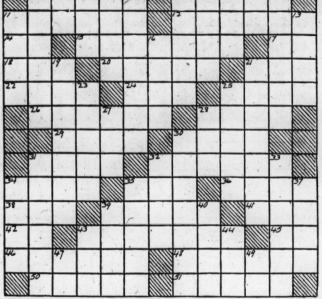

I do not advocate "free love"—but I do suggest tolerance, kindness and understanding for women who have made the mistake of loving a cad instead of a real man. If you are as convéntion-bound and bigoted as your letter seems to indicate, you are scarcely fit for the position you hold.

In closing I should like to extend to Lola's friend, which I suppose will not

As a matter of fact, the ghosts of all three of these subjects may be laid with four words: "Use your common sense." That's all there is to it—just the ordinary garden variety of brains. Thus equipped you can go ahead with no misgivings whatever.

As has been intimated before, the only kind of dog to buy is one that comes from a reliable kennel that has a reputation for square dealing to uphold. Perhaps in no other class of live stock is there greater opportunity for the dishonest breeder to foist an inferior animal on the inexperienced pastomer, so you will do well to avoid the fly-by-night dog seller no matter bow attractive his offerings may appear.

HE TAKES?

DEAR Miss Singleton: I should like to ask a question which would probably interest some other young woman, so I am not requesting a personal answer this time. At the dance I wrote you about my particular young man met a girl who is a neighbor of his and who had also asked him to be her guest. As he had accepted my invitation previously, she came by herself. She is a very poor dancer; in fact, is just learning and the young man is teaching her. He asked me if I would object to his dancing once with this other young lady. There was no way in which he could provide me with a partner, as the only people we knew were three couples I had introduced him to—no unattached man. Also the other young lady was not dancing at all.

My partner expressed regret and respectively a server of leave were of the root of the results. My partner expressed regret and re-luctance to leave me alone, but I sug-gested that I sit with one of the three

This leads to a few do's and a few dont's to be observed during the period immediately following the partaking of the food. From what I've said in the preceding paragraph, please don't get the thought that digestion is such a delicate action that one must lie down immediately after getting up from table. This little habit is a handmaiden to the old habit Obesity. On the other hand, one should not have luncheon and then immediately pick up the tennis racket and play, a strenuous set or two. Indeed, that would be quite impossible, for soon after the violent exercise was started, the food in the stomach would feel as twenty pounds of lead, and, for hours afterward, the world would indeed be a dark and gloomy place.

by the railroads this year indicate that for the first time in a decade the carriers are in a position to procure capital without increasing their bonded debt. In the past ten years the railroads have issued only a very limited amount of stock, most of which was preferred. The ir indebtedness, meanwhile, has steadily increased. Today the railroads are in much greater need of more part-ners than of more creditors.

In 1921 the total capitalization of the country's railroads was $20,098,000,000, of which 56 per cent was in bonds and notes, and 44 per cent in bonds and notes, and 44 per cent in stock, according to compilation by Dominick & Dominick. At the end of 1926 this total was $21,799,000,000. During these six years the funded debt had increased $1,126,000,000, while the stock increased $576,000,000 or half as much. From January 1, 1920 to January 1, of the current year, about $3,750,000,000 or railroad securities have been marketed, and approximately 90 per cent consisted of bonds and other forms of indebtedness.

In view of the general agreement that railroad capitalization should be divided about equally between stock and funded debt, it was pointed out by an investment banker yesterday that it would not be surprising if the railroads took advantage of improved earnings to effect a better balance in their capital attricture.

The railroad expansion of the past few years has very greatly increased the equity behind railroad securities. ## LEADERS WIN SUPPORT

General Motors and U. S. Steel Hold Well; Food Shares Move Up.

OILS WEAKEN FURTHER

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, March 7.—In moderately active dealings, pivotal stocks were well supported on the New York Stock Examples today, but numerous of the more speculative issues sank until at the close they showed recessions on the day ranging up to 4 points. The turn-Am. day ranging up to 4 points. The turn-over was nearly 1,000,000 shares under over was nearly 1,000,000 shares under that of the boiling first market of last week, but topped 1,600,000 shares.

Although during the greater part of the day the general trend of stocks was toward lower levels, there was no misstaking the fact that the best industrial and rail issues were being well supported on all reactions. General Motors, for Instance, never slipped below 165 and closed 1¾ points above that level, and but ¼ net lower, while U. S. Steel held within small fractions of 157 and closed at that figure, net unsupported on all reactions. General Motors, for instance, never slipped below 165 and closed 1¾ points above that level, and but ¼ net lower, while U. S. Steel held within small fractions of 157 and closed at that figure, net unchanged.

New York Central met good buying at or just below 140 and closed fractionally net higher. Some fairly substantial losses appeared in the final quotations, but most of these were in the speculative issues of not more than moderate investment standing.

Two groups of stocks which seemed to move independently of the rest of the list were the olls and the baking stocks. The former, which had shown poor resistance to drives last week, soft-ened still further on another cut in Pennsylvania crude prices. Houston, for example, finished 4¾ off. In the meantime, the food shares, particularly National Biscuit and Continental Baking A, were moving persistently upward. There was no news published to explain the buying behind this movement.

Credit conditions remained satisfactory with funds abundantly offered at per cent on the stock exchange, but 4 per cent on the stock exchange, but signs of unsettled conditions in the money market were seen in the announcement of plans for the large Treasury financing. The unusually low rates for the two issues were regarded as a favorable factor, but many traders were inclined to move cautiously until the large operation had been completed.

Strength in Spanish exchange, which gained 11 points, and a firm undertone in sterling, featured dealings in foreign exchanges. Rates on Madrid crossed the 17-cent level for the first time in several weeks in respectations. several years in response to heavy buy-ing, while sterling rose fractionally. ng A, were moving persistently upward. There was no news published to explain the buying behind this movement.

Supporting orders were encountered at lower levels in most of the stocks depressed, indicating that those who looked for higher levels later were content to see the technical reaction continue. Weakness was apparent in some of the botor stocks, but not all of the group took part in the setback, Hudson being an exception at a new high level for the year.

Individual issues in oher groups were also established at some new tops, but in the main the trend was downward. Baldwin Locomotive, with a decline of 3% net, was one of the few standard issues which failed of adequate support.

But Bows to Eastern Team

Coach Guyon has been pointing his aggregation for this contest and the burning pace the two Eastern teams set while they were in the game greatly wore down the vis-itors, who also showed the strain of the strenuous game yesterday af-ternoon.

Some brilliant long shooting by Lang-henry and Doerr in the opening quarter was largely responsible for Eastern holding a scant 18-15 lead at half time. Essex and Depro displayed a fine floor game.

Coggins' Boys Lead at McAllister's Long Shot Half, 15-14; Runin Overtime Period Defeats Cadets.

CENTRAL HIGH'S flashly quintet, winner in the Penn tournament last week, bowed to the Augusta Military academy team, of Fort Defiance, Va., 37 to 29, yesterday afternoon A UGUSTA MILITARY ACADEMY'S basketball team, competing against Eastern High last night, failed to maintain the winning pace it exhibited yesterday afternoon against Central, and absorbed a 37-29 defeat, but only after forcing Eastern an extra period to gain the decision in a battle that ranks with the most throbbing encounters played here this season.

ance, Va., 37 to 29, yesterday afternoon in the Central High gymnaslum.

The Central basketers were given a rousing ovation by the student body, previous to the battle, which developed into a close and spirited game. Both teams lost a pair of players through the four personal foul rule. Swift and Burgess, of Central, and Conway and Lynch, of the Augusta Military academy five, being forced out of action.

The strain of last week's contests seemed to tell on the little Central five in the waning stages of the battle, when the visitors, with a great burst of speed, went on a scoring rampage which landed them the victory.

The Cadets, a rangy set of tossers, displayed great ability in following up their shots at the cords, ringing up no less than six two-pointers by this method. In Jacob and Runnels, the visitors presented a pair of fine, fast dribblers who were a continual source of worry to the Central's defense.

Coach Coggins' lads more than held their own with the Cadets in the initial half, holding a slight 15-14 lead at the end of the first half.

In the following periods it was a different story. The boys from Fort Deflance, playing a slow back-court game, soon went into the lead, and increased their advantage steadily to the final whistle.

Lynch and Runnells were the "big guns" for the Cadets, ringing up 26 tallies between them, that practically clinched the victory. Conway and Jacob also performed well for the invaders with their brilliant passing and floorwork. Forest Burgess again led the scoring for the Mount Pleasant five with four field goals.

Essex and Depro displayed a fine floor came.

Can'. Jacob and Lynch, the speedy forwards of the Cadets, kept their team in the running throughout with their fancy shooting, while Conway and Runnells were the mainstays in the teamwork and on the defense.

LAMAR WINS 8-ROUND BOUT

Given Decision Over Bobby Mills In Match at Boston.

Special to The Washington Post.

Boston, March 7.—Henry Lamar, of Washington, D. C., won an eight-round decision over Bobby Mills of Milford, Mass, here tonight. Lamar lived up to his reputation as a fast lightheavy weight and was superior throughout the battle chiefly because of his speed. He did not carry a knockout punch.

Mills' power lies in just such heavy slugging ability that Lamar lacks. But Mills could not land many of his tough smacks. The blows that hit their mark were hard but few and far between.

Both men were cagey in the first round. Lamar started blood flowing from a cut over Mills' right eye in the second round and used it as a target until the gong sounded. He created a new red target out of Mills left eye in the next round but soon tired of both marks. Then he uncorked some left jabs which bent Bobby's head back as though it was on hinges. He continued to do this throughout the rest of though it was on hinges. He continu-ed to do this throughout the rest of

Mills looked as though he would stage a comeback in the fourth, visibly hurting Lamar with a right to the head. He continued to go strong in the fifth and actually had Henry covering up. It was the big fragment of the night for Having bled from both eyes, Mills began to bleed from the nose like a stuck pig in the sixth. There was so much blood flowing and flying that Lamar became gory and it was hard to tell who was producing it except for the business-like way in which Lamar kept walloping Mills throughout the last two frames.

HOOSIER FIVE WINS FROM PALACE

Foul Goals Win for Fort Wayne Pros, 36 to 32.

Special to The Washington Post.

Rosers Wayne, Ind., March 7.—The flying feet of the Fort Wayne Hoosiers tripped the Washington tossers here tonight in the latters' drive for the second half pennant of the American basketball league and the home outfit walked off the floor carrying a victory of 36-32 proportions.

When the scorers looked over their sheets after the game they found that Referee Warren had called 26 fouls on Washington which were converted into 22 points by Fort Wayne and had called but 11 fouls on the Hoosier team which Washington turned into 10 points.

but 11 fouls on the Hoosier team which Washington turned into 10 points.

The figures of field goals shooting show that Washington was much the better team. Led by Teddy Kearns, who flashed some of the fanciest work he ever has done in the employment of George Marshall, the Capital boys gathered a total of 11 2-pointers to 7 for the local players.

He has refused to sign a three-year contract at $19.000 a year with the New York Giants after his transfer this winter from the Cincinnati Reds. Rusty Saunders and Georgia Glasc Rusty Saunders and Georgia Glasco did not participate in the shooting as much as did the Washington guards but they wove in and out of the Fort Wayne defense to pass the ball around to Kearns and Ripley.

Benny Borgman was ever dangerous to Washington with his almost unerring eye in shooting fouls. Benny's work from the line of free freedom kept the Hoosiers in the game in the first half. Tris Speaker In Regular Line-Up Mangum and Van Alstyne Also to Take Turn on Mound.

Harris Lauds Reeves Who Covers Much Ground in Drills.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

TAMPA, Fia., March 7.—Manager Harris and his Nationals worked diligently this morning in prep-aration for a return meeting with the Boston Braves, who obtained the decision in Saturday's game. The Capital City team invades St. Petersburg to-Manager Harris definitely announced Manager Harris definitely announced tonight that he will turn his pitching assignment over to George Murray. Clayton Van Alstyne and Lee Mangum, the latter replacing Garland Braxton on the program. He also stated that Tris Speaker will start in center field and that if his team does not win he will have no alibis to offer.

With ideal weather prevailing a long and strenuous workout was staged this morning. It consisted of the usual routine, with President Clark Griffith adding a finishing touch by filling the role of teacher. When active in the game himself as a pitcher, his cagey tactics on the mound earned him his fickname of "Old Fox" and he spent nearly an hour trying to impart some of his wisdom to a flock of young pitchers.

George Murray, Lee Mangum and Clayton Van Alstyne, the trlo who will toe the slab tomorrow, came in for particular attention. The subject under discussion was the important feature of holding men on the bases and yet not algebing on the bases and yet not slacking up on speed or curves while doing that his style of delivery gave him an edge on his mates.

As base runners generally watch a pitcher's shoulder action, the young-sters were taught to peg to the bases on the same shoulder twitch which they use in tossing the ball plateward. Horace Lisenbee and Ralph Stewart also were pupils in this class and at the conclusion of the lesson seemed to have caught on to the general idea, but they will have to do a little practicing before getting the trick down letter perfect. Murray seems to be the most apt scholar, but it so happened that his style of delivery gave him an edge on his mates.

Sixteen players will make the trip to "St. Pete" tomorrow, the party including Pitchers Murray, Mangum and Vanalytne; Catchers Tate and Pedrero; Infielders Harris, Judge, McCann, Bluege, Stewart, Myer and Reeves and Outfielders Speaker, Rice, Goslin, McNeely and West. It is superfluous to add that Altrock and Schacht also will make the trip, for none of these grapemake the trip, for none of these grape-fruit league games is complete with-out this pair of clowns on hand to amuse the fans.

Two young infielders continue to stand out in the drills here and Manager Harris returned from this morning's session literally raving about their work. Shortstop Bob Reeves and First Baseman Emmett McCann are the pair referred to.

McCann, although a novice at first base when he came here, has taken to the job as if it was made to order for him. He not only has shown himself to be a brilliant fielder, but he has been hitting hard, high and handsome in the wand drills, and Harris rates him as a real find. If his work in practice means anything, Joe Harris, slugger that he was, never will be missed.

Frank J. Marshall, of New York, and Rudolf Spielmann, of Vienna, came to a draw verdict after 50 moves in the play-off of an adjourned game from the early rounds. The United States champion again failed to finish his adjourned match with Jose R. Capablanca, of Cuba, and play was post-poned until Thursday.
Dr. Alexander Alekhine, of France, and Aron Nimzowitsch, Danish champion, played five hours today and 30 moves in failing to complete an adjourned match of the eleventh round. Alekhine held a slight advantage when time was called.

While the cameramen deployed Mack, acting as master of cere-monies, escorted the white-haired wizard to the plate, armed him with a bat borrowed from Zack Wheat and instructed him in swinging at a ball which the grin-ning Cobb stood ready to pitch.

Miller Huggins watched the Bambino race around the bases and slug with old-time form before calling it a day. Benny Bengough. Tony Lazzeri, Mark Koenig, Joe Dugan. Walte Hoyt, Ben Paschal and Urban Shocker were others in camp and out for their first workout.

Bill Doak, recently reinstated by Commissioner Landis after a diamond layoff, left Bradenton during the day for the Brooklyn Robins' quarters at Clearwater, where he expects to round into old-time form.

Good news also came to the camp of the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando, with announcement that Bubbles Hargraves has signed his contract and would report soon. Manager Jack Hendricks said as for the exhibition clash tomorrow with Cleveland, he has selected Eppa Rixy for pitching duty.

Stuffy McInnis, of the Phillies, went to work with a squad reinforced by arrivals Sunday and today, Baldwin, Rice, Spaulding, Russell, Wrightstone, Nixon, Leach and Cy Williams, all have reported at Bradenton, and worked during the day.

that the joke about youth must be served.

The pitcher was Ty Cobb, who today donned for the first time in his 23 years of big league baseball, a uniform other than that of the Detroit club. noon program, by the Idle Hour farm's Binary Star.

With Apprentice L. Craver up. Binary Star led from the start, holding a commanding margin until straightened out in the stretch when No Regrets began to close up. A sixteenth of a mile from the finish it appeared as if No Regrets would win but weak handling by Jockey J. Smith, coupled with the fact that No Regrets was carrying 116 pounds, stopped her rush. Bright Shawl, the other Idle Hour representative, was a fast finishing third in the race.

Kla, owned by Mrs. G. W. Glick and ridden by Apprentice J. Dale, won the first race in a gallop. He took command of the 6-furlong dash at the turn into the stretch when Deadfall, the favorite, bolted to the outside fence, and drew out into an easy lead, Harry B came with a rush to be second. Histump was third. Kal paid $12 for a $2 ticket.

Profiting by a bad Jam caused soon after the start. Hal Price Headley's filly. Soiree, came from behind to win the second race, a 4-furlong dash for 2-year-olds, which was one of the afternoon's features. William P., running in the colors of John Burns, was second and Dreana Lee was third. The winner paid $16.60 for a $2 ticket.

J. Marchbank's gelding, Lord Julian, an outsider in the betting, won the third event over the 6-furlong route. Coming with a great rush through the last furlough, he disposed of Tailadega which had taken command from Orestes II. Tailadega held to second place and Fore Star beat out Orestes II for the small end of the purse.

The Claiborne purse, which was at a mile and a sixteenth, was won by the popular choice, however, by the narrowest of margins, when the Idle Hour Farm stable's Benedict Yow nosed out Mom's Boy, with Corposant third. This made a double victory for the Idle Hour Farm today.

Mom's Boy and Benedict Vow had the race practically between themselves, and G. Johnson, who rode Benedict Vow, was responsible for the victory, as he clearly outrode McGonigle, who gave Mom's Boy a very weak ride.

An exciting nose finish developed with the running of the sixth event, when H. L. Craine's Sir John K. came from behind with a rush and just nosed out Bunthorne. The latter came from far back and finished strongly. Foremoon was third, a length and a half back.

The final race was won by Hidalgo by half a length from Charlesetta, who beat Wild Cat three lengths for the

The Buff and Blue team produced a splendid game filled with clever teamwork, but could not cope with the visitors in the last period when the Misses S. Tompkins and Carter, Indian guards, held the local team scoreless sending heir own score up 11 points to win by a long lead.

Miss De Shago was heavy scorer for William and Mary, while Namoi Crumley contributed 9 points to the G. W. score. The local line-up was materially weakened by the elimination of Misses Crumley and Cate, regulars, on fouls, but the combination played a heady game.

The visitors were fast, accurate, quick on interceptions and sure shots in the forward field. George Washington lost to the same opponents last year but defeated them on their last visit to Washington in 1925.

The Eaglets defeated the First Baptist Church team, recently crowned champions of the B. Y. P. U. league, which holds a record in the circuit of five undefeated seasons. The match was played on the Business Night High school floor and resulted in an 8-5 score.

New York, March 7 (By A. P.).—Tony Canzoneri, crack New York bantam, outpointed Joe Lynch, of California. in a fast 10-round match here tonight. Each weighed 121 pounds.

Lynch battled toe to toe with his rival despite a bad cut over his eye that bled profusely from the fourth round on. Canzoneri suffered a split eyelid in the seventh session. Newspaper men gave the New York star six of the ten rounds and Lynch four. There were no knockdowns.

BILLIARD CHAMPION LOSES TO HOREMANS (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 15.)

The score by innings followed:
Horemana—1. 0. 0. 134. 61. 92, 19. 85, 8400. Average. 44. 69. High run. 134.
Hoppe—16. 8. 33. 1. -35, 66, 72, 2-253.
Average. 29's. High run. 72.
The tiny Matsuyama played poorly against his French opporient, and missed many shots he has made with ease in previous games. Grange also was not impressive, and though he now has a possible chance to tie for first place, having two victories and two defeats, he looked nothing like a world's champion yesterday.
Grange's average was 23 9-17 and his high run 115. Matsuyama averaged but 12 2-16, his poorest average thus far, while his high run was 65, made in his first inning.

The European champion played in his custemary careless style, seemingly indifferent where the balls stopped, and left himself in many tough places. He extricated himself frequently with difficult draw shots and masses, but missed as frequently. The Japanese on the other hand seemed unable to score consistently from any position.

Boersig Seen Fleeing From Home After Crime, Farr Is Told.

Six-year-old Loretta Ridgeway, who was mortally injured Friday by a rob-ber who attacked her, her mother and dister in their home near Alexandria, was buried in the Lincolnia cometery rday afternoon. Approximately persons persons attended the ral services, which were held at the and at the cemetery.

police she saw her father enter the negro's home Friday afternoon. Quander denied he had seen Boersig Friday. A rasor was found in his pocket.

Additional evidence against Boersig has been placed in the hands of Mr. Farr, but he refused to make it public. Boersig has been identified by Mrs. Minnie Ridgeway, 27 years old, mother of the slain child, as the man who attacked her and her daughters. Mrs. Ridgeway and her 4-year-old daughter Catherine are improving, physicians at the Alexandria hospital said.

Boersig since his arrest has maintelined he is the victim of mistaken identity. He told police that at the time the attack took place he was talking to the superintendent of the experimental farms at Arlington, Va. He will be taken before the grand jury when it convenes at Fairfax March 21, and Mr. Farr will ask the jury to indict him for murder.

While the services were taking place county officials were studying new evidence they have obtained against Louis Boersig, 44 years old, of Alexandria, who is charged with murdering the child. He is being held under triple lock in a steel cell in the Winchester jail, more than 70 miles from the scene of the crime as a protection against possible mob violence.

Wilson Farr, commonwealth's attorney of Fairfax county, said yesterdsy he had obtained the name of a man who has known Boersig for several years and who said he saw the accused man fleeing from the Ridgeway home after noon Friday. The crime took place about 12:30 o'clock.

More Evidence Obtained.

Mr. Farr said Webster Quander, colored, who was arrested yesterday by Alexandria police, did not have any connection with the case against Boersig. Quander is charged with carrying concealed weapons. He was taken into custody after Boersig's young daughter told police she saw her father enter the negro's home Friday afternoon Quander defends he had seen Boersig Friday. A rasor was found in his pocket.
